

The no call list is the best thing that has happened in recent years. ALL telemarketing calls should be banned in the state. Now one can enjoy an evening or early morning without these irritable interruptions.

My 90-year old father is in good health and lives alone. He deserves not to be bothered by these persistly rude people. The elderly can be persuaded to buy something so easily, especially when the caller is so "nice". There are many swindlers out there and he, like everyone else, deserves to be protected from this kind of solicitation.

I think the no call list should be expanded to no unrequested mail solicitations, also.
